Public Health
Prevent. Promote. Protect.

Colorectal cancer is the third most common type of cancer in both men and women. Many colorectal cancers could be prevented through regular screenings.

Learn:

Who Should Be Screened, Nutrition for Colon Health, Where to get Free or Low-Cost Screenings.

Hosted by: Laura O'Reilly Stanzilis RN, North Jersey Health Collaborative Executive Director
Presented by: Mary Ellen Zung BA Certified Health Coach
Kristine Wilsusen, MCHES, Health Education Consultant for local Morris County Health Departments, will answer questions.

The North Jersey Health Collaborative is proud to partner with ScreenNJ, a collaborative project, led by Rutgers Cancer Institute of New Jersey in partnership with the New Jersey Department of Health and organizations throughout New Jersey, to improve colorectal and lung cancer outcomes.
