

BUTLER ELECTRIC RATES

Listed below are the rate codes that appear on your monthly electric bill. The base rate portion of your electric bill (which is the first amount shown on the charges portion of your bill) is the charge to maintain the distribution system that delivers electricity to your home or business. This charge includes the purchase and maintenance of poles, wire, line trucks, transformers, electric substations, and employee salaries to name a few items. The LEAC portion is strictly the energy charges Butler Electric pays to buy power. These costs are a pass through of charges paid to procure electricity. TEFA is a tax mandated by the State of NJ which is collected by Butler Electric and passed directly to the state.
